Body of the Keeper Pound Burned Brilliant Entertainment in Honor Almost to a Crisp in the Debri .

At 4 o'clock this morning flames were discovered bursting from the rear window of Fred Schmidt's grocery, on Or cans street, corner of Lin-den and the neighbors who ran out saw Mrs. Schmidt and her children escape from a cottage back of the store, but did not see Schmidt. His name was loudly called but there was no response, and in an incredibly short space of time the flames burst out of the front and side doors and windows and enveloped the whole building. The neighbors were powerless to do anything, and the fire engines found it almost impossible to reach the spot on account of the fearful condition of the streets, made more impassi-ble siid by the half fin-ished track of the Citizens' railway, which curves from Linden into Orieans, directly in front of the store. The building, a one-story conconsumed. One of the firemen, in moving about the ruins, stumbled upon the body of Schmidt, which presented a sickening spectacie. The body lay near the stove, and one of tne arms, a portion of one leg and the entire top of the head were completely burned away. The clothing, though nearly all burned away, was identified beyond any question as that of Schmidt. He had on, evidently, when he first encountered the flamer, all of his clothing except his boots; which were afterward found in another per-tion of the store. Justice Elliott was summoned, and, with a jury most composed of darkies, held an inquest n the dark upon the body, which had been pleced upon a plank and drawn out upon the sidewalk. The investigation was about as satisfactory at other Shelby County inquests are, and nothing was brought out when could throw any light upon the shair. They are making investigations, however, and if there was foul play, as suspected, hope to cover it. A representative of the AP-PEAL visited the scene yesterday evening, and found it, even at that late hour, swarming with negroes, who poked about among the debris, fishing out charred provisions, scraps of old iron, or anything they could find which had not been completely destroyed. The widow stood on the porch of a house across Linden street bargaining with a darky about an old stove when the reporter drew near, introduced himself and asked for some information about the fire. She is a large, rather rosy woman about forty years or age, with black hair and a strong German accent. She wore a black al-paca dress and black knit shawi, and

But the darky said he could not handle the big store stove and would not move the other again for a dime. The reporter daspaired of overcoming the grief of Mrs. Schmidt by his eloquence to a sufficient digree to obtain a connected account from her of the silair. The house was all quiet eleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is married to Mr. Schmidt?"

"About a year and a half. My father used to keep a saloon under Cochran "Did Mr. Schmidt have any children?" "Yes, he had a little girt, She stayed in the same house with us.

We moved back into the cottage about a year ago. Mr. Schmidt slept in a room in the back part of the store." Mr. Johnson, who has a grocery across Linden street, said when he first awoke fismes were shooting out of the back window alone, and by the time he got his clothes on and time he got his clothes on and got out they were coming in great volume out of the front doors, which were of solid flooring, giving the impression that they must have been open. He did not know what time Schmidt usually closed, but it was always late that! e shut up."

Sancy Carter, colored, said he had known Schmidt for a long time, and he never drank so much that he could every day.

All the neighbors agreed that Schmidt and his wife did not agree, and said that during the past two or three days they had been quarreling at a fearful rate. Their first misum as fearful rate. Their first misum at a fearful rate. Their first misun-derstanding seems to date from the time that Heck was discharged from the store. The insurance was very nearly, if not quite equal, to the loss. A new cottage adjoining was partially burned, but that was also insured.

MAM! HER BEST PRIEND DR. J. BRADFIELD'S EMALE REGULATO

This famous remedy most happily meets the demand of the age for woman's peculiar and multiform afflictions. It is a remedy for WOMAN ONLY, and for one SPELIAL CLASS of her diseases. It is a specific for certain diseased canditions of the womb, and proposes to so control the Menstrust Function as to regulate all the derangements and wregularities of Woman's MONTHAY SICHNESS.

Its propriets claim for it no other medical property; and to doubt the fact that this medicine does positively possess such controlling and regulating powers is simply to discredit the voluntary testimony of thousands of living witnesses who are to-day exulting in the restoration to sound health and happiness.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is strictly a vegetable compound, and is the product of medical science and practical ex-perience directed toward the benefit of

SUPPERING WOMAN!

It is the studied prescription of a learned physician, whose specialty was WOMAN, and whose fame became envishe and boundless because of his wonderful success in the treatment and cure of female complaint. THE REGULATOR is the GRANDEST REMEDY known, and richly deserves its name.

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND Because it controls a class of functions the various derangements or which cause more ill health than all other causes combined, and thus rescues her from a long train of afflictions which sorely embitter her life and prematurely end her existence. Oh, what a multitude of living witnesses can testify to its charming effects! Wongar, take to your confidence this PRECIOUS BOON OF HEALTH: It will relieve you of nearly all the com-plaints peculiar to your sex. Rely upon as as your safeguard for health, happiness and long life. Sold by all druggists.
